Job description

Passionate about web development and the Umbraco CMS? Have plenty of experience building great looking and performing sites? Looking for a challenging role to help build out exciting new features on an Umbraco CMS?

We need an ambitious, motivated and talented developer to join our team building sites for clients in the not-for-profit sector.

Role

You will be working within a small team in a start-up environment. The role is extremely hands on covering the full software lifecycle: one day you could be writing the spec for a new feature, the next writing code to build that vision and of course ensure the ongoing success of all our clients through maintenance & support, bug fixing and adding new features. There will be lots of opportunity to contribute to technical decisions as well as the actual coding.

You will be working as part of a globally distributed team with staff within Pakistan and London. This takes a high level of motivation and the ability to self-manage. You'll also need the ability to communicate professionally with both technical and non-technical people.

The role is unique in that not only will you be working with exciting technology and a talented & enthusiastic team, you have the chance to be part of something truly worthwhile developing sites that help not-for-profits do more to help some of the most vulnerable people in the world. We want you to be as excited about this prospect as the rest of the team are!

You

- are willing to be measured by your output and the value you bring, not the hours you log

- are keen to take responsibility and use your experience, ideas and energy to drive the project to success
- are outstanding at communicating both verbally and in written English (and more than tech-speak!)
- are detail oriented and meticulous about quality
- are constantly looking to learn and improve
- understand how important good, disciplined process is; in software development as well as communication and project management

Technology

You need to:

- be experienced in C#, ASP.NET MVC and Web API
- have worked with all the parts of Umbraco, you'll know your routing from your custom property editors, content finders and URL providers
- have a strong full stack knowledge on both the front end (HTML/CSS and JS) as well as the back end stuff
- familiarity with ecommerce sites is a bonus

The tools and technologies we use matter only because of the results they enable us to deliver. Therefore, the ideal person will bring the correct mindset, ability to learn and adapt along with as wide a range of technical experience as possible.

Us

We were founded in 2005 in the UK and have spent the last 13 years developing bespoke software for some of the UK's largest charities. The team is globally distributed with staff in the UK and our new development hub in Pakistan.

What's in it for you?

Impact

You will bring your experience, ideas and energy to the role. There is huge opportunity to further develop your technical skills and project ownership.

Purpose

On top of that, our purpose is working on projects and with organisations that have real societal impact. This includes charities and other not-for-profits on both commercial and pro-bono projects. You need to be as excited about that prospect as the rest of the team!

Location & Hours

The role is a full-time position working from our Islamabad office. We are more interested in results than micro-managing which means there is some flexibility in the exact working hours.

Money

Competitive salary, depending on experience.

Team

We are a young and dynamic group and want to work with people who bring enthusiasm and energy, have values they care about and are able to be both professional and fun. If that describes you, then please get in touch!

How to apply

Please send a detailed CV and covering note to recruitment@ankabut.com. You must be available to attend an interview in Islamabad during the first two weeks of April.

These are some tips you'll find useful.

- We value your cover note. We won't open your CV unless you're able to convince us of your interest in this specific role.
- You must apply in English. This will be an example of your fluency in written English so pay attention to details.
- We really believe that at this stage of the recruitment process, it's your job to convince us that we want to interview you. After the interview it's our job to convince you to work for us. Refer to our criteria and tell us why you would be great for this specific role.

We don't point these things out to discourage you, but to support you in getting past our initial filtering process. We're really excited to see your amazing application!
